QUALITY apartments remain a strong investment option even in hard economic times.

Skyline on Swann luxury apartments in St Lucia are evidence of this, with just two out of a total of eight apartments remaining unsold

To date existing sales have ranged from $2 million to $5 million.

Combining lavish finishes, including marble, glass and sleek stainless steel with unrestricted city views, the property was completed in December last year.

The last few apartments have price expectations upwards of $2 million. Each apartment has three bedrooms with their own ensuite and balcony, with the master bedroom having a large walk-in wardrobe with custom-fitted joinery.

Johnston Dixon Quality Property chief executive John Johnston said high-end luxury apartments such as these with all the trimmings are “defying gravity” and selling strongly.

“When such an ideal location is combined with such opulence and incredible city views, the result is an excellent lifestyle and undoubtedly an exceptional investment for many years to come,” he said.

Mr Johnston said what set Skyline on Swann apart from other complexes was the meticulous attention to detail in each apartment and the seamless integration between indoor and outdoor living.

“The bathrooms are fitted with designer fixtures such as a Kohler Laminar faucet which fills from a column of water cascading out of the ceiling, while the kitchens have top of the range appliances including an in-wall espresso machine,” he said.
